Promoting and Evaluating Pupils' Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural (SMSC) Development & Evaluating Secondary Citizenship

Two courses for schools

Both courses are based on similar courses for Ofsted school inspectors and are provided by independent contractors under licence from Ofsted. The course provider is responsible for ensuring that the courses meet Ofsted's quality standard for training and professional development.

Both courses employ a combination of distance learning and tutor-led course and can be tailored to meet the needs of different schools. Both courses use newly published DVDs, copies of which go to all course participants.

SMSC

The course is designed to help teachers:

- understand more clearly what is meant by pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development;
- understand why SMSC development is important;
- organise and manage what their school provides to support pupils' SMSC development; and
- monitor and evaluate the quality of pupils' development and what their school provides to encourage this development.

Citizenship

This course is designed to help teachers and others understand, better, the requirements of the National Curriculum in citizenship.

It seeks to help teachers evaluate the quality of National Curriculum citizenship in their schools and draw up recommendations for future development.

Training Providers

Schools interested in the courses should contact one of the training providers below:
